Dear Tony Carbone and Alaina Iverson,

This email serves as formal legal notice regarding the works of Peter James Thompson, including but not limited to Zenodo records 10.5281/zenodo.20319688, 10.5281/zenodo.19752659, and all associated blueprints, designs, code, and text.

License Update

The license for my works has been updated to version 2.0 (attached). This new license applies to any continued possession, use, or future download of my works.

Proof of Any Built Units

You have not had sufficient time to build any physical device from the blueprints contained in my works. Therefore, no “grandfathering” of existing units applies. Any claim to the contrary would be false.

If you have any built units, you must provide photo proof with a clear date and time stamp, sent directly to me at peterjamesthompson101@gmail.com immediately. If no such proof is provided, you cannot rely on any claim of pre-existing units in any court proceeding.

Your Options

If you do not agree to the new terms, you must immediately destroy all copies of my works in your possession, including:

- Digital files (PDFs, code, diagrams)
- Printouts or physical copies
- Any partial components or notes derived from the works

If you keep the files or continue any use (including studying, copying, or developing the blueprints), that continued possession and use will constitute acceptance of the new license.

Consequences of Acceptance

If you accept the new license (by keeping the files without destruction), you are bound by its terms, including:

- Prohibition on commercial use, derivative works, and redistribution.
- Liquidated damages of 10,000USDperunauthorisedcommercialuse,5,000 per unauthorised redistribution, and $10,000 per derivative work.
- Agreement to pay all legal costs if enforcement action is required.
- Prohibition on further development of any device based on the blueprints.

No Response Required – But Your Inaction Will Be Deemed Acceptance

You do not need to reply. If you do not destroy all copies immediately, you will be deemed to have accepted the new license. I will keep a record of this email and any delivery receipts.

A Final Note

This notice is not a negotiation. It is a statement of the legal terms that now govern your continued access to my intellectual property. Act accordingly.

Sincerely,

Peter James Thompson
